A New Organization

On Sunday August 27th, a meeting of all those interested in forming an adult Bible class was held in the Presbyterian church. The purpose, aims and ideals were clearly outlined by W. B. Doyle, and after some discussion it was decided to organize a class. Out of the twenty-three present, twenty signed their names as members while the others promised their consideration.

The officers of the class consist of a president, vice-president, secretary treasurer and teacher. The meeting was declared open for nomination and the following were elected to office:

President E. R. Sutherland.
Vice Pres Mrs. Cumming
Secretary David McEwen
Treasurer Mrs. Driskel
Teacher W. B. Doyle.

A membership committee consisting of Messrs. Driskel, Bryan, McEwen and Mr. Simpson was appointed to augment the numbers of the class. When thirty have been procured, it is the intention to apply for a charter from the Association. The appointing of other committees was left in the hands of the executive. After a few suitable words from the pastor the meeting was brought to a close. A cordial invitation is extended to all interested in this particular sphere of service.—Com.

R.N.W.M.P. Constables C. E. Meakin from Staveland and H. P. Mann from Nanton are in town for a few days awaiting orders. They are detailed for duty in the restful coal districts.

B. J. McKernacher, representing the Toronto Type Foundry was in town on business last Monday.

Comment is Unnecessary

We re-produce from the Grain Grower's Guide, the following announcement from H. W. Hutchison, general manager of the John Deere Plow Co. Winnipeg, made August 22nd.

"I think the manufacturers of Ontario see a very large phantom staring them in the face as far as the reciprocity pact is concerned. Five per cent, is not going to mean the destruction of any vested interest or industry in Canada, today. But what is it going to do for the farmers? I say this for the company of which I am a member, that we are prepared in the event of the adoption of this pact, to reduce our prices to the farmers $5 on every harvester, $3 on every mower, $1.50 on every rake, $5 on every seeder, $5 on every American wagon, and other things in about the same ratio.

"Now that is a plain benefit in which the farmers are going to share, and what my company will do my competitors will be obliged to do also because competition is the life of trade. In every case that benefit will not only apply to the goods which the company I am identified with markets or offers for sale, but it will also extend all down along the line to other importers of American-made machinery. It will also extend to Canadian implements, because the spread between the price of Canadian and American implements must be so much, and if the price of American harvesters, plows, drills and wagons are reduced to the extent to which I have stated, then my company all through their lines must follow suit. The farmers will save in this way, as near as I can reckon, $1,000,000 per annum."

To The Electors of The Federal Riding of Macleod:

GENTLEMEN

Having accepted nomination as the Liberal Standard Bearer in the forthcoming election and being an enthusiastic believer in the benefits to be derived from the Reciprocity pact with the United States I desire to place before you a few reasons why the cause I support should receive your endorsement at the Polls.

In December 1910 the farmers of Canada sent a large deputation to Ottawa to lay before the Government their demands relative to remedial measures for the benefit of the farming interests, and a reciprocal agreement with the United States was one of the most important measures suggested.

About the same time the United States Government sent representatives to Ottawa and announced that they were prepared to enter into negotiations with a view to arrange a reciprocal trade agreement with the result that the Reciprocity Pact now before the people of Canada was reached and the approaching election is, a Referendum as to whether that Agreement shall or shall not become law.

It is a well known fact that farm products, wheat, barley, oats, hay, flax, cattle and hogs command much better prices in the United States markets than are obtainable in Canada and with the duty removed you will have free access to the markets of the south and reap the advantage of higher prices for your products.

Access, duty free, to a new market of ninety million people is what this reciprocal trade arrangement means and it is for the farmer to say whether he will accept or decline the offer put before him by the Government.

The Reciprocity Agreement also provides for a considerable reduction on the duty of agricultural implements and this will enable the farmer to save money on his purchases of the many necessary farm implements.

As a member of the United Farmers Association of Alberta I endorse the platform of that organization and if sent to Ottawa as your representative I shall do everything in my power to bring about a further substantial reduction of the duty on agricultural implements at the earliest possible date.

The farmers of Canada through the deputation sent to Ottawa asked for reciprocity and those of you who follow the discussions in the House know that but for the opposition of the Conservative party, Reciprocity would now be in force and we should be getting the benefit. If you vote for the Liberal Party and return that Party to power you will have the Agreement ratified just as soon as Parliament can be re-assembled.

As has been already pointed out the Conservative Party is opposed to this measure and supporting their Candidate you are assisting to elect that Party to power and therefore assisting to destroy the Reciprocal agreement.

The powerful industrial and financial interests of the East are opposed to the agreement and if the Conservatives get into power these interests will dictate the Policy of that Party and Tariff reduction will be impossible.

Reciprocity also means much to the consumers of Canada and is worthy of their support. The fact that many food stuffs can be imported free of duty from the United States should appeal to the consumers of this country who are anxious to see the cost of living reduced.

The Reciprocal Agreement will give a tremendous stimulus to the development of the large coal areas lying along the mountains. The removal of the duty on Coke will enable Alberta Coke to compete successfully with Pennsylvania Coke in the markets of the great Smelting centres of the United States and the result will be a largely increased output by our coal companies. New coal mining Towns will spring up in these coal fields and new home markets for farm products.

Railways will be induced to come in from the South affording us better transportation facilities.

One of the arguments advanced by the Conservative party against the Pact is that better trade relations with the United States will tend to make us disloyal to Britain and create a desire for political Union with the United States.

But at the present time Canada does a much larger volume of business annually with the United States than she does with Great Britain yet Canadians have not been termed disloyal. A prosperous people are always a Loyal People and if we double our business with the United States that will not weaken our loyalty to Great Britain.

The Liberal Party have in the past drawn together the bonds of Empire by giving British manufacturers a preference in Canada and will increase that preference. The Conservative Party opposed the British Preference almost as bitterly as they now oppose Reciprocity, yet they now talk loudly of their Loyalty to Britain.

Reciprocity with the United States will rapidly enhance the value of our lands. The Canadian Pacific Railway Company advertising in Seattle state that the passing of the Pact will increase the value of Western Canada Lands one hundred per cent. This means wealth to every Homesteader.

In conclusion I would say that I am not without parliamentary experience and I would point to my record in the Provincial Legislature.

If honoured with your support at the Polls on September 21st I shall do everything in my power to further the interests of the electors of Macleod Constituency.

If sent to represent you at Ottawa I shall stand for immediate construction of Railways for which Charlers are granted in the Federal House as I have done in the Provincial House.

Be sure to cast your vote on September 21st. A vote at home is useless. Vote for the Liberal Party and Reciprocity.

I have the honour to be, Gentlemen, Your obedient Servant,

Sept. 4th, 1911.

LABOR DAY

One of the disadvantages of weekly journalism lies in the fact that a paper issued on one day of the week only is out of perspective with the other six. Nevertheless a tribute to Labor Day and what it stands for is not unlike on the first Monday in September or any other day of the remaining three hundred and sixty-four. Give a man the home-building idea and he will develop the business-building idea for his employer. To drain the energy of the laboring man is of no economic value to the employer of labor. The agriculturist who in time past raised his "hands" at four o'clock has discovered that he gets a greater labor value for a day from the shorter hours than he used to receive from the daylight till sundown day. The factory again because the faculties of the workmen in eight hours of labor intelligently rendered are keener than when the tired and depressed human machine has demanded of it work for a longer period. Society makes a gain in the hours when strenuous effort of the business day of a shorter duration has its period of laxity and repose and the home-building workman gets an opportunity to spend with his family and at his home a few hours for recreation, whether it be spent in the beautifying of his surroundings or in the spending of the time in getting acquainted with his family. And the man who meets the commercial buying-and-selling requirements has found his employees bring a greater energy and enthusiasm to the eight or ten hours than to the irregular periods of labor which the employer considered his due for the day he paid to his assistants.

The organization of labor is business-like. Labor is a commodity and it is necessary and wise that this commodity be governed by laws and regulations necessary to preserve its (Continued on supplement).

Be Careful In building that Home.

POOR LUMBER gives a house a cheap shabby look which makes it difficult to rent. If it is to live in, you want to be proud to show it to your friends, and the fuel bills are large where low grade lumber is used. We make a specialty of high grade and 'classy' material that you will want to use. We have built up the largest retail business in Western Canada by being very fussy as to grades and selling better stuff than is sold elsewhere at prices as low as those asked for the inferior kinds. Bear Ye One Another's Burdens

The public meeting which it was purposed to hold on the 16th is announced for Saturday evening Sept. 23rd at L.O.O.F. Hall. At this meeting is to be discussed the steps that ought to be taken to give the farmers and others who are fortunate in reaping an abundant harvest this year an opportunity to lighten the burdens of the less fortunate in this district with the fact ever present that the tables may be turned another year and the fortunate ones in this harvest be the unfortunate ones in the next.

Next week a fuller announcement will be made. Suffice it this week to note the change from the 16th to the 23rd in the date of this public meeting.

TEN COMANDMENTS

A fruitful subject for consideration would be John Heron's Deaologue vs R. L. Bock's and if one had the time he might also contrast it with that of Moses. John Heron agrees with the published manifesto of the Conservative party in five points; he agrees in effect with the Liberal government in five points. The Liberal nominee is in agreement with the Liberal policy on all points and will be one powerful voice to support it when the Laurier government is returned on Sept. 21st. John Heron would have no voice or influence with his party on several planks of his platform in any case and would have no chance to support reciprocity if the Conservatives should have a majority in the next house.

A Mammoth Horn

While excavating for the purpose of deepening an old pond on the farm of Harry Smith near Welland, Ont., a horn of some pre-historic animal was unearthed. The horn which is in a good state of preservation is over eight feet long and measured two feet two inches at the largest end. Fifteen wrinkles can be distinguished circling the base of the horn and the horn itself is a perfect half circle in shape.

John loves the farmers and dearly hopes to obtain the loan of this platform - only a temporary loan, too - to get John back to Ottawa where he can with his friends - farmer-loving friends, too - delay the passage of the grain bill framed by the present government and approved by the farmers, as he did only a few short months ago. Well he does think we are credulous, doesn't he?

CLARESHOLM REVIEW SUPPLEMENT

VOL. 7

CLARESHOLM, ALTA., SEPTEMBER 7th, 1911—

No. 28

Letter From 'ome

Oldham, August 14th, 1911.
The Editor Clareisholm Review,

Dear Sir,

It is a fortnight since I arrived in England where I have been slowly cooking. The weather is exceptionally hot, the thermometer registering 90 in the shade, which is, a record for this country.

I left Calgary Sunday morning July 16, 1911, and stayed in Winnipeg all day on Monday July 17, visiting the Fair, leaving Winnipeg on the Tuesday morning. I arrived at Montreal Thursday morning and spent Thursday and Friday in Montreal and sailed by S. S. 'Laurentic' at 3:30 a.m. Saturday, she is a fine ship. After being roasted alive on the train, in Winnipeg and Montreal, sailing down the St. Lawrence from Montreal to Quebec was a treat. We arrived at Quebec about 4:30 p.m. took on the mail and left for Liverpool shortly after 5 o'clock. Everything went well until we entered the straits of Belle Isle where we encountered fog and ice. One day according to the ships' chart we passed 63 ice bergs of all sizes. If I had one here now I could make more money out of it than sellin' Claresholm real estate. After getting through the Straits we had good weather and was alongside the Princes Landing shortly after 9:30 a.m. Saturday, July 29th. Less than seven days from Montreal to Liverpool (five hours were lost on the trip). Leaving Liverpool I took the train to Manchester.

There is some good farming country on the route, but fields (something like the size of a garden patch) looked strange to me. The grain was ripe and Massey Harris name on the binders, (this is not an advt) seemed familiar. The grain in this country is short owing to the dry season. I intend to see all there is to be seen on this quarter section before I leave for Sunny Alberta, which will be on September the 9th, on the S. S. 'Teutonic'. Trusting you are having good weather, good crops, etc.

Yours truly,

Travis Bagley.

What is the Cost?

The answer to this question is that the cost of a Canadian Government Annuity depends upon four things: 1st, the age of the applicant; 2nd, the amount of Annuity required; 3rd, the age at which the Annuity is to commence; and 4th, the plan on which the purchase is made. Tables which answer these questions have been published by the Department and may be had on application. Annuities are payable for life, but for a small additional payment may be guaranteed for a number of years certain, not exceeding twenty, so that should death occur before the guaranteed period expires the Annuity would be continued for the remainder of the twenty years to the Annuitant's legal representatives. By the latter plan the return of a specific sum is assured. Any other details of this important Annuity plan may be had on application to the Superintendent of Canadian Government Annuities, Ottawa. Postage free.

A Lie Outruns a Truth

In the East the papers who garbled Sir Wilfrid's Simcoe speech in order to make him say that the reciprocal agreement was 'but the entering wedge which he hoped to see expanded to the utmost' are making tardy explanations, the poison virus having in the meantime gone beyond recall. The Mail and Empire make a very much delayed apology to the Premier but the Herald published in Calgary repeated the version last Friday that is covered by the apology. It is hardly reasonable to suppose the Herald did not know that the unfair version of Sir Wilfrid's speech would go farther than the explanation. It is also unreasonable to suppose that the same paper did not know the apology of the Mail and Empire was made on August 17th at least two weeks prior to the Herald's comment. The reference quoted was not referring to the reciprocity pact at all but to the peace treaty signed by Great Britain and U. S. Understanding this the ultra loyal boasts of the Conservative party would, for sweet consistency's sake demand a loud Amen! from that party. But the Herald goes on spreading the misapplied quotation and endeavors to make political capital out of the mistake. This is no 'new thing' at all from that politically blinded source.

Wonderful Consistency

The Conservative speakers are arguing that reciprocity will destroy the prosperity which our country now enjoys, that the Americans will flood our country with their goods and our own producers will be driven into bankruptcy.

The same Conservative speakers are arguing that Canadian loyalty to the Empire is of such a thin, weak nature that under reciprocity Canada will be made so prosperous by American capital and energy that they will want to transfer their allegiance to the United States and lose their loyalty to the British Empire.

Rank of Lumber Provinces-1910

The total lumber cut of the Dominion of Canada for 1910 has just been compiled by the Forestry Branch. Reports were received from 2763 firms operating sawmills, which is nearly 700 more than reported last year. Thus the 1910 report is a better estimate of the actual lumber production than ever before. Nearly five billion feet of lumber was cut during 1910 throughout the nine provinces of Canada, which represents a total value to the country of seventy-five and a half million dollars. This is about fifteen million dollars more than the value of the 1909 lumber cut. Ontario, as in former years, holds the premier position as a lumber province. Its forests are made up of diversified species, which enabled it to produce one-third of the lumber for the Dominion. British Columbia, however, will soon take Ontario's place, from predictions made on the 1910 report. In 1909, the Western province produced a trifle over half as much lumber as was cut in Ontario, while for last year the amounts returned from the two provinces were practically the same. Although one-quarter more lumber was cut in Quebec in 1910 than in the year previous, the increase was not sufficient to maintain it in second place of importance, which position was usurped by British Columbia. The remaining provinces New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Saskatchewan, Alberta, Manitoba, Prince Edward Island cut in the order of importance given, but together supply only one-sixth of the amount for Canada.

Then and Now

While our Tory brethren are traversing the land denouncing reciprocity, the farmers of Ontario, as well as the Western settlers and the fishermen of Nova Scotia, are passing resolutions to the effect that they are extremely well satisfied with the Fielding agreement. How could it be otherwise? Both political parties in Canada have until now cordially recognized that the free admission of our raw products into the United States market would be a boon of extraordinary value. Sir John Macdonald used to illustrate the situation of the Canadian farmer in this way (Hansard, 1878, p. 861):

"I put the case in the Eastern Townships of a man upon the imaginary line which lies between this country and the United States. Suppose a man has 100 acres on the Canadian side and a 100 acres on the American side. Suppose he grows 1,000 bushels of barley on each of his farms. He takes his

1,000 American bushels to the American market and gets a dollar a bushel for it. He takes his 1,000 bushels of Canadian barley to the American market and gets but 85 cents per bushel, because he has to pay 15 per cent duty for taking it across that imaginary line. How can it in this case be said that the consumer pays the duty? It comes out of the pockets of the Canadian farmers."

Ultimately, of course, the duty was paid in whole or in part by the American consumer, who, but for it, would have got his barley for less than a dollar. But no one saw more clearly than Sir John that tariff obstructions at the frontier were a detriment to all concerned, and that if they were abolished the Canadian producer, who pays the duty in the first instance, would greatly profit. The present American duty on barley is 30 cents a bushel.

With Sir John, in fact, at one time reciprocity was the be-all and end-all of the N.P. In an amendment he submitted, when in Opposition, to the Liberal budget of 1878 (date above) he declared that his policy, "moving, as it ought to do, in the direction of a reciprocity of tariffs with our neighbors, so far as the varied interests of Canada may demand, will greatly tend to procure for this country, eventually, a reciprocity of trade." And so when, as Prime Minister, Sir John passed the N.P. in 1879, it contained the following proviso, which was kept standing for years:

"Any or all of the following articles, that is to say: animals of all kinds, green fruit, hay, straw, bran, seeds of all kinds, vegetables, including potatoes and other roots, plants, trees and shrubs, coal and coke, salt, hops, wheat, peas and beans, barley, rye, oats, Indian corn, buckwheat and all other grains, flour of wheat and flour of rye, Indian meal and oat meal and flour meal of any other grain, butter, tallow, meats, fresh, salt or smoked, and lumber, may be imported into Canada free of duty or at a less rate of duty than is provided by this Act upon proclamation of the Governor-in-Council, which may be issued whenever it appears to his satisfaction that similar articles from Canada may be imported into the United States free of duty or at a rate of duty not exceeding that payable on the same under such proclamation when imported into Canada."

This was if anything a wider measure of proffered reciprocity than that which the Laurier Government has just negotiated. The principal difference between the two cases, and it is a vital one, is that whereas Sir John Macdonald and the Conservatives of 1879, and afterwards, supposed that they could best obtain reciprocity of trade by resorting to reciprocity of tariffs—a figure of speech for high Canadian duties—Mr. Fielding has obtained the present reciprocity, not only without increasing the Canadian tariff, but actually through lowering it on such articles of importance to the Canadian farmer as implements and wagons and giving the Ontario manufacturer cheaper coal.

If Sir John could preach and strive for reciprocity in natural products as he did, and still be an orthodox Imperialist, how can any reasonable conservative affirm or believe that Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Fielding are traitors?

quality and values. These laws and regulations are the offspring of an organization of labor popularly known by the name of Unionism. Like all kindred organizations abuse may be made of its power but any human service, if it possesses value, must be subject to the limitations of human wisdom and its influence depends on the judicious balancing of the interests of employer and employee by each. If the former suffers the latter must suffer as well. Hence the employer, without prejudice to his own interests can view the spread of Unionism without fear and the employee can with pride and true loyalty enter into the spirit of the contest in which his employer is engaged. This loyalty to the employing interests is the holding ground of the anchor of the labor craft which enables the seamen, A.B. or apprentice, to turn into their hammocks and feel satisfied that the watch will ever pace the decks with the cry 'all's well!'

Carmangay Fair Sept. 14-15

The splendid prizes offered by the Carmangay Agricultural Society will attract a large number of exhibitors to their first annual exhibition to be held Thursday and Friday, Sept. 14th and 15th. The excellent programme of sports, the Midway in all its glory, the five good horse races announced and the dance in the opera house in the evening will give the visitors to Carmangay Fair a satiety of enjoyment. A special train from Lethbridge and intervening points will enable the district south to pour into the town. Just now Carmangay is doing a lot of gloating over a silver Cup representing the district Championship which they won at Lethbridge Fair and the Carmangayists offer to let us have a peep. Bear the date in mind.

Another Way of Putting it

"The Mummy and the Humming Bird", is a comedy drama inclining to sensational lines in its depiction of a well known English society problem. In this particular case the Mummy is a married man, too deeply absorbed in his hobby, some form of scientific research, to pay much attention to his young and attractive wife who naturally misunderstands his attitude. The Humming Bird is a wily Italian count who would surround the lady with that wealth of affection she fails to receive at her husband's hands.

The Mummy,  taking to the situation he did at last appreciate it in its full significance, he quietly and unobtrusively rose to the occasion and by his keen wit and complete mastery of himself, saved the glory of a day fast fading into abysmal darkness.

The play is more than half tragic in character but there is a strong vein of comedy offsetting the gloom. A scene in the first act between the Mummy and an organ grinder whom he has invited to dine with him, apparently borders on the burlesque for a time, but in reality leads up to a very clever bit of character study work culminating in the pivotal climax of the play. The second act sees much action and the excitement is strained to the breaking point when the curtain falls.

Misunderstanding of Game Regulations

The idea seems to prevail in many quarters that the land recently excluded from the Rocky Mountains Park by Order in Council has been withdrawn from Departmental regulation and control, and that therefore, Indians and the public generally at liberty to enter the haunts of game in these hitherto protected areas on the 1st September next and hunt. Such idea is however erroneous. The excluded areas are situated within a forest reserve and are subject to the Forest Reserve Regulations, one of the provisions of which is that no one is allowed to enter such a reserve without the permission of the ranger in charge. This provision is usually enforced with discretion. It is the intention of the Interior Department to permit no hunting of game within the former limits of the Rocky Mountains Park; and so, owing to a misunderstanding of the facts of the case, it has been stated that many whites as well as Indians purpose hunting this autumn in the areas withdrawn from the Rocky Mountains Park. The game wardens and forest rangers of the Park and of the Forest Reserves are being instructed to keep a sharp look-out for hunters during the coming season.

The Indian Department has been requested to co-operate with the Department of the Interior by preventing Indians from attempting any hunting expeditions into the regions referred to.

For Bald Heads

A Treatment that Costs Nothing if It Fails.

We want you to try three large bottles of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic on our personal guarantee that the trial will not cost you a penny if it does not give you absolute satisfaction. That's the proof of our faith in this remedy, and it should indisputably demonstrate that we know what we are talking about when we say that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will grow hair on bald heads, except where baldness has been of such long duration that the roots of the hair are entirely dead, the follicles closed and grown over, and the scalp is glazed.

Remember, we are basing our statements upon what has already been accomplished by the use of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic, and we have the right to assume that what it has done for thousands of others it will do for you. In any event you cannot lose anything by giving it a trial on our liberal guarantee. Two sizes, 50c. and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store. O. L. Reinecke.

J. R. Watt attended the races at Millerville last Monday. He reports a very pretty miniature race course 18 miles north-west of Okotoks devoted entirely to running horses and ponies. Ranch King, owned by him pulled out the chief event, the Victoria stake purse, over a mile which he won easily from Grey Cloud and Sunbeam, and also took the open Selling Purse; one mile, in a field of six. The betting in this race was so strong on Ranch King that the pool only returned $6.65 for a $5 investment.

Why I Buy At Home

In a city not far from here there is a local retail merchants' association that has taken up a buy-at-home propaganda seeking to do a stroke for themselves and for local manufacturers against the competition of outside concerns. The association has just issued a list of reasons "Why I buy at home," which is right to the point and applicable to any city. Here is the list

Because my interests are here.

Because the community that is good enough to live in is good enough to buy in.

Because I believe in transacting business with my friends.

Because I want to see the goods.

Because I want to get what I buy when I pay for it.

Because my home dealer carries me when I run short.

Because every dollar I spend at home stays at home and works for the welfare of the city.

Because the man I buy from stands back of the goods.

Because I sell what I produce here at home.

Because the man I buy from pays his part of the local taxes.

Because the man I buy from gives value received always.

Because the man I buy from helps support my school, my church, my lodge, my home.

Because when ill luck, misfortune or bereavement comes, the man I buy from is here with the kindly greeting, his words of cheer and his pocket-book if need be.

Here I live and here I buy.

All this is admittedly good, yet the local newspaper office that is always trying to promote home buying, gets an occasional black eye from some of the home merchants. For instance the past week when a solicitor for a printing concern in Winnipeg received orders from some of our merchants for envelopes, designed to boom the city. Those same merchants who gave orders for printed envelopes to an outside concern, would kick long, hard and with vehemence against anybody going out of town for goods they sell over their counters. When these merchants kick again let them remember the golden rule applies all along the line

Open Season for Votes

Last Thursday evening a number of the Liberal supporters of Dr. Warneke took advantage of his appearance at Carmangay to motor over from Claresholm to hear the questions at issue in the campaign so auspiciously begun presented by the Hon. A. L. Sifton and the Dr. The evening was an ideal one and a large audience greeted the speakers at the Public Hall, Carmangay. With the Dr. and the Premier of Alberta were Messrs. Mouat, Pincher Creek; President of the Liberal Association of this riding and the Secretary J. W. McDonald of Macleod.
